- Simple, deep, and unique bidding mechanism.
- Fast gameplay and silly theme make an ideal filler/family card game.
- Simple components and small size make it easy to manufacture and distribute.

In Mixed Nuts, players have to hustle to box up nut orders with minimal waste.

Each round starts with splitting up an array of cards using a unique “low bid wins” mechanism. Players then assemble as many matching sets as possible: 3 leftover cards can be kept until the next round, the rest “fall on the floor”, incurring a steep penalty at the end of the game.

Variable gameplay modes and swappable Special cards provide great replay value. And watch out for the Bad Nut!
